

Discernment: Discernment for Christians is now the most important aspect of one's walk. Christ clearly warned about the time that is now upon us, when many would come in his name and lead many astray. The writers of the New Testament, especially the Apostles Peter and Paul, describe in detail how insidious, pervasive and mesmerizing the end-of-this-age deception will be for Christians. This work is a comprehensive resource based on the harder teachings of Christ and the Apostles. The author uses sound doctrine and ministry cases in this powerful and captivating treatise on learning to detect imposters, false doctrine and evil cloaked in decency. An excellent resource for the pastor's library; a publication dedicated to help prepare the sincere Christian to navigate safely in the ever-increasing darkness.
