

Wake Up Now - before the midnight cry! Consensus theology has put millions of Christians at ease regarding the end-of-this-age and the appearance of Christ. The world, with America leading the way is running head-long into the Great Tribulation. Most Christians believe they will escape the trouble or avert it by changing the world through Christian evangelism. This is not what Christ taught. Charles Pretlow covers the often overlooked theme of Christ's parable of the Ten Maidens. All ten maidens were asleep and startled awake by the Midnight Cry. Five were ready, and five were not. Christ received those maidens who were ready; however, the unprepared foolish maidens were locked out of the marriage feast. Many good-hearted Christians are slumbering, though they attend church and even walk in the gifts. Now is the time to make sure you have worked out your own salvation and grown up into the true Christ and assure your invitation into eternity is valid. Learn how to make sure you do not hear these terrifying words from Christ, "Truly, I say to you, I do not know you."
